Suspicious Person Sighted In Antioch

In what has become somewhat of a seasonal disturbance, reports began filtering in just after Thanksgiving that a large overweight man in red flannels, featuring a hippie-type white beard and long hair was again being sighted in the Antioch area.

According to police reports the description of the subject varied from time to time. He was either pleasingly plump, obese or thin and had been termed of varying height. The mysterious man had been observed carrying a large bag which one officer described as bulging at the seams and "close to cryin'" from the burden it was holding.

The subject had been sighted at many different locations, at approximately the same time; leading law enforcement officials to believe there may be a conspiracy involved.

While not wishing to be identified, one lawman stated that the person had no visible signs of support, but doubted whether any charges would be brought against him. He added that he thought the man was harmless and appeared to have a genuine rapport with children.

Now, as the editor, this looked like your run of the mill candidate for the funny farm, but I thought there might be some human interest in a story like this, so I sent the cub reporter out. In all likelihood this was nothing, so he couldn't ruin it.

However, he came back later in the morning with glazed eyes, stammering about this beautiful person he had talked to. I checked his breath and found nothing but the usual lingering odor of onions and garlic, but sent him home anyway.

Next The Feature Editor

After this I sent out the feature editor, a crusty old Wilkie Republican, with about the same results. I didn't bother to check his breath because everyone knows depression republicans didn't drink.

With my staff dwindling, I thought it more prudent to conduct a telephone survey. I had the news department contact as many children as they could and find out what the big-guy in red velvet was up to. In every case when queried about the jolly man they shrieked a delighted cry of joy and ran off, leaving the phone off the hook and my news staff with ringing inner ears.

One adult, with whom I agreed, answered a flat "Bah Humbug!" and refused further comment.

Not Much in Copy

Since we hadn't got much in the way of copy yet, I had the people we hide in the basement and call our ad staff do some ground work. They turned up a blank. The children weren't talking and the adults remembered bits and pieces, but couldn't help us much.

Now, the whole affair was using half of my staff and getting zip for results. So, like any courageous editor I yelled "Great Caesar's Ghost" and started to wade in myself.

Things began to get done now. I had friends, acquaintances, stoolies and former employees beating the brush for leads and I was on the hot line to sources you get when you're an editor.

Aided by a Troop of --

Using a little muscle on a city father I found out that the "bearded wierdo", as he called him, may perhaps be aided by a troop of dwarfs or midgets.

Although no one has actually gotten close enough to make an adequate description possible, there were some strange prints in the snow near the Rescue Squad Building.

At the airport, Antioch's answer to Dogpatch International, I learned that there had been numerous reports of optical illusions and sightings that an F.A.A. official termed "ridiculous".

I had learned, however, that his appearances have been limited to winter. Based on this, I speculated that he might be from a colder climate. A call to Point Barrow proved worthless and a number at the North Pole was busy. In desperation, I called Juneau, but all I got was a surly "none of your business" and a bill for what has to be the most expensive "no comment" in my history.

The Next Logical Step

By now the entire thing was getting under my skin and the usual lines of sordid information were down. So, the most logical step was to try to confront the man in red.

I cornered him as he came out of a small frame house from a most unlikely exit and tried to spring away on what had to be the most startling conveyance I could have imagined.

Between "Ho! Ho! Ho's!" he related a story that I dare not repeat but to my children a few days after winter begins.

I'm not sure if it was his kind and gentle manner or the realization of the hard bitten crust that I had accumulated as an editor, but when he had completed his tale I didn't feel like chomping menacingly on a cigar or scowling at a rewrite man.

Thought I'd Ease Up

Unfortunately there isn't a Bob Cratchet in my life to make amends to, so I thought I'd ease up a touch on my staff and check my habit of dropping in unexpectedly on the night desk on Monday.

Later, back at my desk; the copy boy, cringing in anticipation of the back of my hand, got the palm instead, as I patted his greasy hair.

I stowed away the Lovecraft paperbacks and sent the religious editor to get something he thought appropriate.

Life speeds merrily along at its pace. Unless we take time out to re-evaluate the really meaningful things or have the chance to find an unusual source, it really is a tough climb out of the rut.

MERRY CHRISTMAS TO YOU ALL!

Teachers Ratify Contract!

Below appears a statement from Mr. Jim Corrigan, representative for the Antioch High School Teachers, following the decision of December 21st.

"At a special meeting held Tuesday afternoon, the A.C.H.S. Education Association voted to ratify a contract that includes a moratorium on salary increases for the year 1971-72.

As recently announced, the association had initiated a grievance on the ground that the teachers had a legitimate claim to prescribed step increases on the existing salary schedule. At great personal sacrifice, however, and in the interest of community good will, the teachers have dropped this grievance.

We trust that this sacrifice will be looked upon favorably by the entire community and that it may serve as a basis for an early re-ordering of district finances."

Adult - Student Rap Forum Begins

By action of the board at their December 15th meeting, Antioch High School will be the site of the Joint Student - Adult Rap Forum.

The purpose of the group is to encourage dialogue and present a forum for young adults to discuss items with adults.

Composition of the body will be comprised of twelve students (the four class presidents and two members of each class) and adult representatives from the PTA, Education Association, Board of Education and School Administration.

Adult representatives are: Christy Arendt, William Brook (alternate), Kathy Clumpner, Robert Denman, Larry Fears, Stuart Good, Louise Gutowski (alternate), Shirley Gutowski (alternate), George Hall, Richard Harland, Nancy Kiemle, Edward Kurek, Bette Meyer, Lucien McLean, David Monke (alternate), and Gabrielle Oelerich.

The student-adult group had their first meeting on Monday, December 20th in the student commons of the high school and discussed organizational planning.

The group also formed a committee to study the question of an open campus.

Pictured above are the newly elected and retiring members of the board of directors for the Antioch Chamber of Commerce. They are: (l to r) Jay Dziki, the former secretary-treasurer and newly elected 2nd vice president; Bill Mendrala, a retiring member; LaVerne Woods, also a retiring member and past president; Don Walsh, newly elected to the board; Jack Fields; Ray Scarpelli, the incumbent 1st vice president; Hillard Tobieske, the former 1st vice president and incoming President and Grant Spong, retiring from the board after being president.

Not pictured are four other members of the board: Fredrick J. Walpole, a past president and Dick Ford, newly elected to the board. In addition Jim Dayton, a continuing member and Elaine Oftedahl, the new secretary-treasurer were not present.

TOBIESKE ELECTED CHAMBER PRESIDENT

The Antioch Chamber of Commerce held its Annual Election Luncheon at Lorenz' Smart Country House at noon on December 20th.

Next years officers are President - Hillard Tobieske, 1st Vice president - Ray Scarpelli, 2nd vice president - Julian Dziki, and sec-treas - Elaine (Mrs. Everett) Oftedahl.

Following his nomination Mr. Tobieske pledged himself to working for the good of Antioch and following the continued course of the Antioch Chamber of Commerce.

Other business discussed was the up-coming dinner dance to be held in January

CMATS Presentation at Village Board

Three representatives of the Chicago and Northwestern Railroad were present at the Antioch Village Board's Dec. 20th meeting to inform the Village on the proposed Chicago Metropolitan Area Transportation System (CMATS) and to try to solicit a statement of support from the Mayor and members of the board.

George C. Ingram, the Northwestern's Staff Service Consultant and Raoul Cokely, Manager of Commuter Services presented a lecture and slide presentation showing the merits of the proposed CMATS program, the current expenditures, both federal and local, of existing systems and explained the possible ramifications to the Chicago suburban area if the CMATS system was not implemented. Donald C. Deuster, candidate for the State Legislature, was present in the capacity of attorney for the group.

Cokely described the current mass transit situation "critical" and urged passage of House Bill 2136, no pending in the general assembly.

He explained that there are currently 26 private and public carriers in the metropolitan area that produce, at best, a

High School Board To Borrow $250,000

During its' December 15th meeting, the Antioch High School Board gave its' approval for the issuance of two anticipation warrants, totaling $250,000, on taxes to be received from the 1971 tax levy.

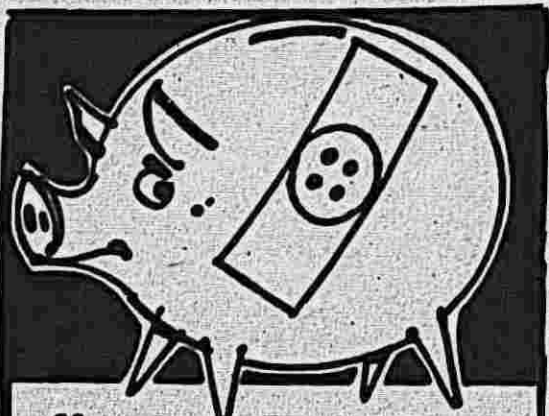

Tax warrants, simply stated are a method of borrowing funds to pay for expenditures that have run higher than anticipated or had been unforeseen in the previous budget.

In the case of the high school, $125,000 will be borrowed from both the State Bank and First National Bank of Antioch with payment to be made in one year, based on anticipated taxes from the next tax levy.

As has been the case before, the school educational fund was again the culprit for the deficit. Although the board had cut $100,000 from its' proposed educational budget, an increase in enrollment and other factors led to the borrowing.

When asked for a comment Al Dittman, school superintendent said the situation was "much like the case of a man who earns $5000 and spends $6000." "He just has to borrow to make up the difference", he stated.

One Solitary Life

He was born in an obscure village, the child of a peasant woman.

He grew up in still another village, where he worked in a carpenter shop until he was thirty...

Then for three years he was an itinerant preacher. He never wrote a book. He never held an office. He never had a family or owned a house. He didn't go to college.

He never visited a big city. He never traveled two hundred miles from the place where he was born. He did none of the things one usually associates with greatness.

He had no credentials but himself. He was only thirty-three when the tide of public opinion turned against him. His friends ran away. He was turned over to his enemies and went through the mockery of a trial.

He was nailed to a cross between two thieves. While he was dying, his executioners gambled for his clothing, the only property he had on earth. When he was dead, he was laid in a borrowed grave through the pity of a friend.

Nineteen centuries have come and gone, and today he is the central figure of the human race and the leader of mankind's progress. All the armies that ever marched, all the navies that ever sailed, all the parliaments that ever sat, all the kings that ever reigned, put together, have not affected the life of man on this earth as much as that ONE SOLITARY LIFE.

This article was sent to us from Mrs. Pauline Kantos.

Christmas is Dead?

Watching a recent TV Special I find the producers of this show telling me that Christmas is dead. The other day on the way home a man hands me a paper, which also tells me that Christmas is dead. What these two groups were really trying to say is that they feel the real meaning of Christmas, The Spirit of Christmas, is dead.

During one of our difficult times in getting our newly formed paper and Studio going, I began to believe maybe these people are right, and no one cares if the spirit of Christmas is dead.

But then I remember my good health, fine family and the home I live in and things are not so bad. I also remember the many fine people who have given so freely of their time and thoughts to help get us on our way.

I remember all the fine and wonderful experiences that have happened to me, and it is very hard to think of Christmas as dead. If you give your past year some thought, I am sure most of you will find a renewed Spirit for the coming year.

The Rushes and the staff of the Antioch News - a very Merry Christmas and Happy New Year. Signed, Joe, Barb, Chuck, John, Gerri, Dennis, Diane, Harriet and Barb.

OPEN LETTER TO ACHS BOARD OF EDUCATION AND TO THE COMMUNITY AT LARGE

It was with alarm, but not surprise, that I learned about the recent drug confrontation at Antioch Community High School. Many citizens have long known that there are "drugs" in the community, as in any community in this age. Furthermore, some of us have been aware that there are a percentage of kids experimenting with those drugs. Maybe its time for all of us to take a realistic look at the situation and at the needs of our youth. I, at least, am ready to report a few observations. I preface these observations by pointing out that they are personal views.

Observation 1: As stated above, there are drugs available in the area, and there are kids fooling with these drugs.

Observation 2: There are expanding and improving drug education programs in the schools. The kids are not stupid about drugs. In fact, those exposed to the drug experimenting peer group know more about drugs than their parents and teachers do.

Observation 3: Most of the drug passing in this area is best considered as "drug sharing" not "drug pushing." It would be unusual indeed, if there were many stereotyped "pushers for money" around. They don't as yet, have any real market around here.

Observation 4: Our drug sharers, and those experimenting with the drugs are not "criminals." Granting, in the narrow sense, it is illegal to possess, exchange, or use drugs, and doing same is in violation of the law; but to consider these youths as "criminals" is improper.

Observation 5: A parallel observation is that those experimenting with the drugs are not "crazy" either. Granting, most kids making the decision to turn on artificially are a bit messed up, and filled with emotional turmoil, and even a bit "stupid" (at least some of the drugs are destructive enough to consider use as rather dumb); but to consider these youths as "emotionally disturbed" or "mentally abnormal" is improper.

Observation 6: It is also improper, I think, to consider the drug exchangers and the drug users as "losers." Granting, the drug using subgroup at Antioch Community High School may have some degree of overlap to that group that adjusts poorly to school, and has poor community adjustment, and represents that troublesome 10% of kids that don't fit in; and granting that even the other 90% feel a tendency to consider them "rejects;" we must not throw in the towel on these kids. Maybe a good many of them have already given up on themselves, and we must not reinforce that self-evaluation.

Observation 7: This point follows from the former three. In my interactions with the youth from the angry and drug using subculture, I hear all the standard references to "pigs," (police, juvenile officers,

P. O.'s), "shrinks" (psychologists, psychiatrists, counselors), and "gestapo" or "finks" (teachers, administrators). What this implies, of course, is a tremendous tension and strain between this youth group and the adults in their world. One of my most frightening fears is that his youth-adult stress in communication and understanding is even felt by a large percentage of the "straight" kids. I mean by that, that more kids are uptight about schools, police, and adults in general, than are, as yet, in the acting-out or turning on to drugs pattern. In other words, I sense real growing tension in our area between the youth community and the rest of us.

Observation 8: One could even expand upon the former point, arguing that a significant number of young people feel no true understanding from the adult community. They feel no real interaction with parents, churches, schools nor anybody. So their relationships and communications are with each other, and they therefore, reinforce each others attitudes and life styles. Stupidity reinforces stupidity, rebellion reinforces rebellion, anger reinforces anger, and confusion reinforces confusion.

Observation 9: All of this leads to the observation that the symptoms of drug exchange, or drug use, or drug abuse, or "standing around doing nothing," or anger at schools and all society, are obvious in our community. These are symptoms of a "youth and community problem."

Observation 10: There is danger that the initial reaction of communities facing such a problem is to go on a witch hunt to find the focal point for blame. (Actually, this is the second reaction, coming after admission of the problem. The first pattern of community reaction is denial that there is a problem; I hope we are beyond that.) Anyway, let me offer a brief quote from a paper I authored some time ago:

"And the schools blame the parents, and the parents blame the schools. The revolutionaries blame the establishment, and the establishment blames the revolutionaries. The kids blame the cops, and the cops blame the kids. And the psychologists and sociologists blame us all, and make us feel guilty for what we have done, and doubtful of our ability to straighten things out."

I repeat that quote in hope that it might guide us through that initial defensiveness. The problems of our youth community are our fault and their fault, and nobody can dodge blame nor responsibility. The problem is not one for the schools alone, nor the police alone, nor the churches alone, but for all of us, together.

Whatever the outcome and decisions about the recent situation, let us use this moment for growth and progress. The newly organized, not-for-profit, local Chain O' Lakes Mental Health Center, which has talked about a youth outreach program, with rap center, telephone crisis line, and youth counselors, is now more anxious than ever to move forward in an attempt to reach out to those alienated youth. The Center belongs to the people of the community, and stands ready to await their suggestions on how we can help.

71 Seniors Receive Good News

It is an exciting time of year for the seniors who are planning for their future. Word is coming in from the colleges and other sources with acceptance statements.

On Saturday, Dec. 19 - Gary R. Rush received his first telegram. It was from Congressman Robert McClory, nominating him to compete for appointment to the US Naval Academy.

John Cook received the same happy news - but he has his choice of the Naval Academy or West Point.

Laurie Good, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stuart Good received word that she has been accepted at North Central College in Ill. This was the college of her choice.

These and many other young people have all of their busy days ahead of them, and will have a hand in shaping their's and our future.

CHERI DALGAARD WINS TOP ELKS HONORS

Merry Christmas and Happy New Year aren't just seasonal words to Cheri Dalgaard of McKinley Avenue in Lake Villa. This young lady is continually making someone's day merry (not just at Christmas) and certainly contributes to the happiness of others all year round.

Cheri is one teenager who is not bored with life. She just doesn't have the time to be bored. A senior at Antioch Community High School, Cheri takes part in many school activities, as well as out of school activities, works two jobs and contributes many hours to civic and community projects.

Ray O'Dell, chairman of the Lodge Youth Program of Waukegan Lodge No. 702-B.P.O. Elks, announces that the winners for this year's Youth Leadership Contest were: Cheryl Ann Dalgaard of Lake Villa, and Neal James Jahnke of Park Avenue, North Chicago. These two fine people will be entered in the state contest along with entries from other Districts in Ill. Waukegan Lodge No. 702 has sent out congratulations to these winners, as well as a $50 Savings Bond for each.

Cheri also received some good news from the Veterans of Foreign Wars of the U.S. and its Ladies Auxiliary with the cooperation of the National and State Associations of Broadcasters, who informed her that she is the winner from Antioch Community High School in the Community Commitment is nothing new for Bob Wilton, owner of Wilton's Electric Shop. As a member of the Village Board, Chamber of Commerce and Rescue Squad he would have to be considered one of the civic leaders of Antioch.

Bob is a native of Antioch and has seen the sleepy village become one of the most sought after growth areas.

He is a graduate of Antioch High School and attended Bradley University in Peoria, receiving a degree in business administration.

Although he didn't know it at the time, his future wife, Vicki, whom he later met at Bradley, spent many summers near here vacationing with her parents at Indian Point.

Bob and Vicki were married in 1956. In December of that year, Bob entered the army and the couple moved to Ft. Carson, Colorado where their daughter, Patti was born.

In addition to his many other civic duties, Bob is a member of the Sequoit Masonic Lodge, the

A National Broadcast Scriptwriting program conducted during the fall term, September through December, designed to give high school students the opportunity to voice their opinions on a patriotic theme and to convey them via the broadcast media to all of America.

Now Cheri's winning tape will be entered in the next level of competition - the V.F.W. District judging. After the V.F.W. District judging takes place, those winners will be entered in the State judging. We look forward to hearing of Cheri's further success.

"fragmented and uncoordinated attempt at mass transit."

Because of the character of federal funding the Chicago Transit Authority (CTA) gets the bulk of subsidized money and provides only an island of service in the metropolitan area.

The enactment of CMATS would consolidate the piecemeal efforts of the present carriers under one authority responsible for improvement of "the entire metropolitan area and not Chicago alone," he stated.

Ingram warned that unless action was taken soon on CMATS "federal dollars would soon be committed to three projects of the CTA and thus, the City of Chicago."

Bob Wilton

Chain-O-Lakes Shrine Club and the Antioch Methodist Church.

Bob's father, Robert J. Wilton, started the electrical shop on Main Street fifty years ago. Since he has taken over the main duties, Bob has seen his business grow to the point where he had to purchase an adjacent store to satisfy the demands of his customers.

On his nine years of service with the Rescue Squad, Bob said that "helping someone" and the gratification that it brings is payment enough for the hours, work and responsibility that come with the job.

Now in his second term on the Village Board, Bob hasn't been surprised by the remarkable growth of the Village, but hopes that development in Antioch will be "compact and organized, not spread out and haphazard."

He also feels that the downtown district should be the site of improvement. "Eye appeal" and "more parking are the keys," he stated.

Bob said that the Main Street stores could use a facelift. The introduction of "fake fronts to the buildings and landscaping of the sidewalk area" would do a lot to bring in more customers and regain some of the area residents who shop at modern and more aesthetically pleasing shopping centers.

The Epidemiology Of Christmas Fever

CONDENSED FROM A REPORT*

CHRISTMAS Fever is a seasonal disease which appeared in the Near East about 2,000 years ago.

DESCRIPTION OF DISEASE

IDENTIFICATION: A highly acute and communicable illness characterized by compulsive buying and characteristic red-green color fixations. Presumptive diagnosis may be made when the above are observed alone or in conjunction with subclinical signs such as eating large amounts of candy. In the acute stage the patient has a marked tendency to sing. A predisposition to buy trees is common. Radical changes in behavior, such as volubility and constant laughter have been observed. Depression is never noted. There are no differentiations as to age or sex.

ETIOLOGIC AGENT: Christmas virus.

SOURCE AND RESERVOIR OF INFECTION: Department stores have been implicated as possible sources. Man is the only known reservoir.

MODE OF TRANSMISSION: Unknown, presumably by contact with an infected person or with articles associated with the season, such as conifers and tinsel.

PERIOD OF COMMUNICABILITY: Throughout the infection.

SUSCEPTIBILITY AND RESISTANCE: Susceptibility is general. No

Along the Way with Annie Mae

One Antioch family has made a very wise choice this year--ANGIE and DAN MARAS, MARK, SCOTT and DANNIE JR. all want to Wish You a Merry Christmas-and Happy Holidays-but rather than send cards -they are saying it here and in turn-donating to the Rescue Squad-Maybe next year-We can get more people thinking in that direction.

The Caroler's have been out in droves this year. The SCOUT TROOPS have made their rounds and the CHURCHES are doing some caroling. Saturday evening a good sized group of PM & Lers made their rounds- their voices were in fine tune and they even passed out Song Sheets and an agenda-Was surely enjoyed by some people I know-who got in the mood and sang around the piano at their party.

Sunday evening a group of ladies from St. Peter's made their yearly visit to Lake Villa nursing home to sing a few Christmas songs and wish all a Merry Christmas-The high school held their Annual Christmas concert, which was well attended and, last but not least, a NAMELESS "group" of men carollers (?) made their annual visit to households in the area. No song books needed, all they sang was Jingle Bells, Hear they gathered recruits along the way-even looking behind garbage cans....

SPECIAL GET WELL wishes go to GERRI AMUNDSEN. She is sorely missed in the back office of the News!

Welcome home all our college friends-Some familiar faces around town are RON TURZY, RICK NELSON, DEBBIE TOFT, SARA HALVERSON, SUE SEVERSON, JIM MOORE--HAPPY HOLIDAYS--Also--CHRIS JOHNSON arrived home for the holidays from Ill. Wesleyan-and is recovering from an emergency appendectomy.

Happy belated birthday to LADDIE MASEK, Dec. 16 & JENNIFER HUBER who turned 21 on Dec. 14. Birthdays coming up-Dec. 25th, HAROLD GASTON, MARY LORR and HOLLY MARKWART--Dec. 26th, LOUISE GUTOWSKI, Dec. 28th, TIM O'NEILL.

Seems there are "Spooks" near and around Antioch Lake Area--After erecting lovely Christmas decorations-the electric eye on the garage door must open the door every once in awhile to take a look-huh....

ELMO and SHIRLEY EDWARDS will be leaving our town shortly after many years-Good luck in your new location.

Those Sequoit cagers are still on the go and undefeated in their Conference, (a note here that our Sophomores and Freshmen are also undefeated). The Rockford tournament will be coming up Dec. 27-30, for the Varsity team.

The Norshore resort was the location of the Mayor's annual dinner for the Fire Department, Rescue Squad, Police and village employees-A nice way to say thanks to all these men.

Also that same evening, the State Bank hosted all their employees and spouses to a dinner at Lorenz's. They were entertained by a very talented group from Lake County College.

Babe Wagners fans - Special Notice. Meet us at Hunters Country Club, 8:00 P.M. Tuesday, December 28, 1971 - to make preliminary plans for Feb. "Babe Wagner Night". Phone me for more details at 312-395-3834 or 815-678-2631.

MRS. SABRA SHEPHERD was truly surprised on Saturday, Dec. 18. Her daughter-in-law MRS JUDY RAUSCH and CHILDREN gave her a surprise birthday party. Guests who helped her celebrate were MRS ARLENE HORTON, MRS JOHN RAUSCH SR, MRS JOAN ELERT & 3 children, MRS CELIA GELDEN, MRS CLARA STOEBE all from Wilmet, and MRS MARGARET ANDERSON of Antioch.

Well, better hurry along my way and finish my shopping, only two more days til.

Father Henderson Memorial Fund Planned

At a recent meeting of the Men of St. Peter's Church plans were discussed to establish a memorial in the memory of the late Father Alfred Henderson, pastor of St. Peter's Church since 1951.

The main purpose of the meeting was to establish a fund in his name and to discuss the best means of a memorial. The committee has decided to investigate the possibility of up dating the main Alter and Sanctuary of the Church so that it will meet the new liturgical Standards.

Anyone interested in contributing to this memorial fund may contact St. Peter's Rectory at 557 Lake St., Antioch.

Emmons Presented Annual Christmas Program

Emmons Grade School presented its Christmas Program on Friday Dec. 17th. The Kindergarten thru Fourth grade sang familiar Christmas songs, followed by a duet "Silver Bells" sung by Suellen Fischer and Jenny Schmidt. "Toyland" was sung by Pam Brueggemann and Gina Teresi and Pam Donovan set the scene with "Let it Snow".

The 7th and 8th grade students presented the play "Christmas Coast to Coast" by Lewy Olson. This was a comedy presentation of a "television broadcast" of the "12 Days of Christmas".

The main roles were played by Terry O'Brien - John Lannon, a reporter and Pamela Donovan - Peggy his wife. Other speaking parts were played by: Paul Petty - delivery boy of the 6 geese a-laying,

Top Scouters Honored

The Northeast Illinois Council, Boy Scouts of America, held its Council Annual Meeting on Wednesday, Dec. 15, at the Ramada Inn in Highwood. Highlights of the meeting, attended by 250 members of the Council, included the election of officers and the presentation of the highest Council awards, the Silver Beaver for men and Silver Fawn for women.

Ray Atwood of Antioch was honored during the evening with a President's Award in appreciation of outstanding work in training. Outgoing president Alban Weber made the presentation.

Two from Antioch Attend 30 Year Pearl Harbor Anniversary

Four former marines from Illinois, who were stationed at the U. S. Naval Air Station, Kaneohe Bay, Oahu, Hawaii, at the time of the surprise Japanese air attack, stand together once again thirty years later on Dec. 7, 1971 to help commemorate the 30th anniversary of the attack at what is now the Kaneohe Marine Corps Air Station. Fifteen actual survivors and their wives belonging to the Pearl Harbor Survivors Association took part in the ceremony along with approximately the same number of former civilian employees. The former Marines, left to right are Wesly Bott (Antioch, Ill.), John Kowalik (Chicago, Ill.), Walter Kozel (Antioch, Ill.) and Emil Sifer (Berkeley, Ill.). (Official U.S. Marine Corps photo)

Pearl Harbor Survivors Association Pays Tribute To Fallen Comrades

In ceremonies here today, Marines, sailors and civilian workers made an everlasting tribute to their fallen comrades in the attack on the U.S. Naval Air Station 30 years ago.

Guests included 15 members of the Pearl Harbor Survivors' Association.

During the ceremony, the recently remodeled Headquarters Building Lobby was dedicated. The Lobby contains actual pictures and mementoes of the attack along with a brief story of the attack on the base.

Also dedicated was a monument marking the spot where Lieutenant Lida, of the Imperial Japanese Navy crashed his plane after being shot down over the Air Station.

After the 11 a.m. ceremony, the guests were then offered an opportunity to view headquarters lobby.

Looking at some of the actual pictures of the attack Mr. John Kowalik, a Marine PFC at the time from Chicago said, "I ran out and saw the "Rising Sun" on a plane. I then went back into the barracks and started firing at them with my "03" through the barracks window".

Mr. Al Dodson from Overland Park, Kansas recalled, "I tried to get our plane in the air but the Japanese had completely destroyed the plane by the time we were ready".

Kallua resident, Mrs. Alice Spencer remembered that day of infamy, "I was standing outside when the Japanese airplane came over. I thought it was dog-fighting which I always saw, but when the plane turned over I saw the "Rising Sun" on its wings and knew this was for real".

To conclude the 30 year anniversary, the members were taken on a short tour of the base.

RAINBOW GIRLS HOLD CHRISTMAS MEETING

The Order of Rainbow for Girls held a meeting on Monday, December 13, 1971, at 7 p.m. at the Masonic Temple.

It was initiation and our candidate was Darlene Konkell. Welcome to the assembly, Darlene, we hope to see you up regularly.

After the meeting, everyone enjoyed refreshments and a Christmas party with an exchange of gifts.

We are all looking forward to our next meeting, when sister Patti Moorad, Grand Worthy Advisor in Illinois, will be present.

We hope that everyone has a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year.

THE ANTIOCH NEWS DECEMBER 22, 1971

Lorenz's

In 1956 the Lorenz family acquired Smart's Country House and in the ensuing fifteen years has made the former rambling farm house into one of the area's most elegant and picturesque dining spots.

Lorenz's specializes in food selection and preparation and has one of the most outstanding menus in Lake County.

Some of the entrees include Prime Rib au Jus, Roast Long Island Duckling, Pepper Steak, Barbecued Back Ribs, thick Lamb Chops, Roast Turkey, Filet Mignon and Medallion of Beef; choice cuts of beef in a rich sauce served over a bed of rice.

The seafood selection at Lorenz's is varied and features some of the most delicious offerings from Neptune's domain.

French Fried Gulf Shrimp, English Dover Sole, Shrimp De Jonghe, Lobster a La Newburg, Sauteed Louisiana Frog Legs and Broiled Red Snapper are only a few of the selections that have delighted many of the patrons.

Lorenz's also offers a number of tantalizing luncheon specials daily. Included are Beef Straganoff and Chicken Kiev.

The elegant dining rooms are given a special atmosphere by beautiful Tiffany light fixtures that cast an enchanting glow on the many original oil paintings that line the walnut veneer walls.

The cocktail lounge provides a perfect setting for a before dinner drink. Rich leather chairs and candle lit tables surround the special piano bar.

The angular bar offers a generous selection of specialty drinks and can accommodate almost any request. In addition to imported Heineken and Lowenbrau beers, Lorenz's features Martinis and Manhattans served in a special, lipped snifter.

Lorenz's also has a beautiful wine rack that features fine Paul Masson and B & G wines.

The banquet room at Lorenz's which seats 250, has been the site of numerous wedding receptions and has hosted many civic clubs and community organizations.

Music on Friday and Saturday evenings is provided by a group of unusual talent the "Unpredictables."

The gracious restaurant will be hosting a special New Year's Eve "open house" and are currently accepting invitations. It will, however, be closed on Christmas.

For "Gracious Dining with a Country Aire" visit Lorenz's and rediscover the pleasure of dining out.

SOCIAL NOTES

by Del Jahneke

The AWANA girls from the Antioch Evangelical Free Church gladdened the hearts of many "shut-ins" in this vicinity, by not only visiting them at their homes, and singing Christmas carols, but also by giving each one a box of cookies and other goodies that the girls had baked themselves. It was on December 15th, that night of cold, freezing rain, that some thirty of the older AWANA girls made their rounds, with leaders Mrs. Alan Knutesen, Mrs. Stanley Anderson, Mrs. David Knudsen and Mrs. Robert Anderson as their chauffeurs.

It will be a merry Christmas for the Rod Garland family at Antioch Lake - not only have they moved into a new home, but better yet, they received a new little addition to their family. On December 15th, at Victory Memorial Hospital in Waukegan, they became the proud parents of a "bouncing baby boy, named Timothy Rodman, and weighing 6 lb. and 13 oz. He has four older sisters at home just waiting to spoil him. Small "Timmy's" mother is the former Sue Wolfenbarger.

A gay Christmas party was hosted by the Junior Girl Scout Troop No. 144 at the Antioch Scout House, December 16th. The troop sang Christmas carols, and gave a tableau of the nativity scene as part of their entertainment for their guests, comprised of families and friends. Then, on December 17th, these girl scouts went "a'caroling" at the banks and on the main streets of Antioch. Their co-leaders are Mrs. Miles Zimmerman and Mrs. Shirley Kasik.

Another group of girls a'caroling went - the Brownie Troop No. 185 were also singing Christmas carols at the Banks and on the Antioch streets on December 18th, with their leaders, Mrs. Donna Dahlberg and Mrs. Fran Zajac. All these girls, as well as their leaders, should be given great credit for braving the icy elements to be bringing holiday happiness to many people!

The Jerry Shatley's and junior Ed Jahneke's of Antioch celebrated Edie Shatley's birthday on December 11th, by dining at the Stage Stop in Wilmot, Wis. Afterwards, the four went bowling at the Antioch Bowling Lanes. If you want to hear a sad story, but the kind you can laugh about much, much later, ask Edie how she bowled with her left hand and arm in a cast - however, don't ask her why she has that cast for awhile yet!

A lovely wedding reception for some fifty relatives and guests was held at the Antioch Evangelical Free Church for Eugene Thiele and his bride, Melody December 16th. The Thiele's were married in Canada on November 27th.

The Ray Rathmann's, Oakwood Knolls, were guests of the traffic department of Illinois Bell Telephone Company, at a smorgasbord dinner, with entertainment and dancing afterwards, held at the Homer Dahringer American Legion Home in Waukegan, on Dec. 11th.

Just received word that the Cadette Troop No. 237 and the Junior Troop No. 157 of the Grass Lake Girl Scouts sang Christmas carols at practically every store, restaurant, etc. in Antioch, December 18th, with their organizer Mrs. Elaine Wojnowiak and leader Mrs. Nancy Traves.

SEQUOIT SMOKE Signals

The Christmas spirit is filling the air everywhere and making it very hard to keep your mind on homework. Everyone can't wait until vacation!

The ACAPELLA CHOIR sponsored a Carnation Day on Friday. On this day you could send your secret admirer a flower with a message. It worked out very well as over 70 flowers were sent out.

All the choirs participated in the Annual Christmas Choral Concert Sunday night. There was a full crowd which made the evening worthwhile. Everyone joined in singing Silent Night at the end which added a nice final touch.

The weekend couldn't have been better as far as sports go. The events began Friday in school with a big pep rally for the game that night. It proved successful as the Sequoits trampled on Lake Zurich, 72-59. It was a big win because both teams had an undefeated record up to that point. There was a celebration dance in the commons after the game. The junior class provided the music and everyone had a nice time.

The dance was followed by the freshman GAA slumber party. They spent the night in the girl's gym but I hear they didn't do much sleeping! They had the usual scavenger hunt all over the school which is supposed to tire you out but also as usual it didn't work. Poor Miss Arent and Miss Lehman!

The winning streak carried over to Saturday night when the Sequoits beat McHenry 54-51. That was a real nail biter!

The wrestlers also scored a double victory this weekend. Lake Zurich was put in their place Friday night and McHenry was taken care of Saturday afternoon.

Have a very Merry Christmas, GOD BLESS!

WINTER SAFETY

No holiday season is complete without a Christmas tree. But be careful - a dry tree is a fire hazard. Liberty Mutual Insurance Company suggests that trees be stored in water and checked each day, especially if near a heating system. Also, never allow a tree to stand more than two weeks.

Put all wrapping paper away as soon as presents have been opened, notes Liberty Mutual Insurance Company. A carelessly dropped match or cigarette could be the spark to a very sad, silent night.

The Holiday season is hectic enough as it is, so don't rush when behind the wheel, warns Liberty Mutual Insurance Company. Fast driving may get you there in time - or it may not get you there at all.

CANDLELIGHT SERVICE PLANNED AT CHRIST LUTHERAN CHURCH

A festive candlelight Christmas Eve worship service is planned at Christ Lutheran Church beginning at 7:30 p.m. December 24. Open to all in the community, the service will emphasize the celebration of the Christ-event in history and today. In addition to singing some of the season's favorite hymns and the reading of the Christmas Gospel, the filmstrip, "The Light of Christmas," will be shown. Special musical selections are also planned.

A 10 A.M. Christmas worship service is also set for Sunday, December 26. It will include the celebration of Holy Communion. Nursery care is provided during the service.

The Reverend Philip Borleske, pastor of the congregation, announced that during the holiday season-Sundays December 26 and January 2-there will be no 8 a.m. worship or Sunday School.

Guests are invited to share in these worship experiences. Christ Lutheran Church, a member of The American Lutheran Church, is located on Highway 50 just east of the junction of Highways 75-83.

Christian Science Churches

"And when they were come into the house, they saw the young child with Mary his mother, and fell down, and worshipped him: and when they had opened their treasures, they presented unto him gifts; gold, and frankincense, and myrrh."

This passage from the account in Matthew's Gospel about the birth of Christ Jesus will be read at Christian Science church services Sunday.

From Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures by Mary Baker Eddy these words will also be read: "When a new spiritual idea is borne to earth, the prophetic Scripture of Isaiah is renewedly fulfilled: 'Unto us a child is born, and his name shall be called Wonderful'."

Everyone is invited to hear the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Christian Science" at First Church of Christ, Scientist, BEACON HILL - Rte 173 & Harden, Antioch, Illinois. Services begin at 11 A.M.

ROYAL NEIGHBORS HOLD CHRISTMAS PARTY

The Royal Neighbors held their Xmas Party in the American Hall on December 14th. Christmas cards were read to the Audience from our SUPREME OFFICERS. Visitors for the evening were Lottie Rehberg and Gladys Lokke.

Election of officers was held and the following officers were elected. Alice Lassen, Oracle; Nancy Thayer, Vice Oracle; Myrtle Delany, Chancellor; Laura Thayer, Recorder; Dod Gelden, Receiver; Eva Fields, Marshall; Val Gelden, Inner Sentinel; Ellen Flint, Outer Sentinel; Lillian Hand, Manager; Dr. Abderholden, Physician.

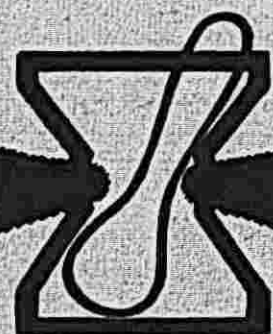

Val Gelden and Ellen Flint reported birthdays during the month and Ellen Reekie was reported on the sick list.

Each member brought a dish to pass and no calories were spared. Everything was delicious. A gift exchange was held and all enjoyed their gifts.

A beautiful gown and slippers was presented to Irma Hostetler for her untiring efforts during the year, from all her officers.

Laura Thayer and Alice Lassen were the Kitchen committee for the evening. The Next meeting of the Royal Neighbors will be on January 11th.

Our Congressman

With the adjournment of the First Session of the 92nd Congress, a great deal of legislative work remains unfinished and will be carried over into the Second Session-scheduled to begin on January 18, 1972.

Nevertheless, 1971 has been a most eventful legislative year. Congress passed and the states promptly ratified, in record time, a Constitutional Amendment lowering the voting age to eighteen. The President announced two bold initiatives; (a) a dramatic program to curb spiraling inflation, and (b) a historic move aimed at bridging the political and cultural gulfs which have separated us from the people of mainland China for more than twenty-two years.

When the President announced his new economic policies, Congress immediately began to grapple with the legislative problems inherent in that program. As a result, the final days of the first session were spent on such issues as Economic Stabilization Act of 1971, the Revenue Act of 1971, and other wage and price legislation designed to help the President carry out his announced program to stop inflation and improve the American economy.

While preoccupation with the nation's economy accounted for much of the time spent by Congress in the past few weeks, it does not justify the setting aside of many vital measures which received only partial attention in the First Session. For example, the House passed and sent to the Senate such major items as (a) the proposed Constitutional Amendment to assure Equal Rights for men and women, (b) consumer protection legislation, (c) equal employment opportunities legislation, and (d) drastic revisions of the Social Security laws.

In the case of Social Security, both Houses were able to agree on only one major improvement in the present law by increasing Old-Age, Survivors and Disability Insurance (OASDI) namely, an increase in benefits of ten percent, retroactive to January 1, 1971.

Under the new law, the minimum monthly payment was increased from $64 to $70.40. Also, the taxable wage base was raised from $7,800 to $9,000 effective January 1, 1972. Nevertheless, the revolutionary "Family Assistance Plan" for needy families-which would set a Federally-guaranteed $2,400 income floor for a family of four without any income-passed the House and is stalled in the Senate.

Monday, Dec 20 figured to be the busiest mail day before Christmas. Our staff photographer stopped by the post office at 8:00 a.m. on Monday morning and as indicated, the bins are already beginning to fill up. Bags of mail and packages were everywhere you turned. The smiles on the employees faces did prove that it is the season to be jolly even overloaded with work!

This is not to say that the Senate has been totally inactive this year. Quite the contrary. In scuttling for a time the entire foreign aid program, it delayed the adjournment of Congress. An inordinate amount of time was spent restoring some of the beneficial aspects of that program which had been "thrown out with the wash." While many Members of Congress agree that our foreign aid program is in need of massive overhaul, it did not take long to realize that the Senate's action was precipitate-even irresponsible.

Mark 2 Wins for Wrestling Weekend

The Antioch Varsity Wrestling Team came up with two wins this past weekend. On Friday night they virtually clobbered Lake Zurich with a 57-9 victory.

The varsity line-up was changed for the night with 3 sophomores wrestling in the varsity level. Dietz was moved up in the 112 position, Meyer in the 126 position and Roberts at 98 is a soph. tho he does wrestle at the varsity level regularly. Feldman moved down to 145 lbs.

This score broke the team scoring record which was 51 points made by the 1962-63 team.

Individual scores are: 98-Roberts - Pin 3:40; 105-Bode and 112-Dietz - won by forfeit; 119-Dyer - lost; 126-Meyer - Pin 4:46; 132-Severson - Pin 4:29; 138-Shaffer - dec; 145-Feldman - Pin 4:55; 155-Olson - Pin 1:59; 167-Lipman - Forfeit; 185-Staples - lost; HWT-Dameske - pin 1:48.

Saturday's match was a bit tighter as Antioch was down after the 185 lb. match when substitute Russ Dameske went in to wrestle heavy weight. Russ was equal to the task as he decked McHenry's heavy weight in 1:26.

Coach DeRousse said "I don't think anyone has ever seen Russ move so fast and sharp. It's great to have depth."

Antioch's next meet is the Grant tournament on December 23rd. SESSIONS: Prelims - 9:30 a.m. Semi finals - 1:30 p.m. and Finals at 7:00 p.m.

Individual matches were: 98-Roberts - won; 105-Bode - forfeit; 112-Larsen - won; 119-Dyer - lost; 126-Cook - lost; 132-Severson - won; 138-Shaffer - won; 145-Feldman - lost; 155-Olson - lost; 167-Lipman - lost; 185-Staples - lost; HWT-Dameske - Pin 1:26.

The Soph and JV's also had a successful weekend. 98-Edwards won both days; 105-Dennis Thain won both days with 2 pins; 112-Dietz won at McH. and Lear lost at L.Z.; 119-Harceg lost at McH. and Dave Rush won at L.Z.; 126-Meyer, John-won at L.Z. and John Thain won at McH.; 132-Mohar won at L.Z.; 138-January won at L.Z. and Gary Rush won at McH.; 145-Beasley won at L.Z. and lost to McH.; 155-Coles won at L.Z. and G.Stout won McH.; 167-Bill Beese won to L.Z. and Banwart tied McH.; 185-Armstrong won both days as did Nixon in the Heavyweight slot.

Freshman Undeclared

The Antioch Community High School Freshmen Wrestlers remained undefeated with a whopping 51-18 victory over McHenry High School on Saturday afternoon.

The Sequoits had seven pins in the match, and were ahead 39-0 before McHenry put together a string of three pins. The win brought the Sequoit's record to 6-wins, 0-lost, 1-tie.

Commenting on the victory, Coach Steve Wapon said, "These men have really done the job so far. They have worked hard in practice and have sure impressed me with their great team spirit. I hope the team will continue to improve and guard against taking any up-coming opponent too lightly. The team must be ready for each future match if they are to complete the season successfully."

98-Kost - pinned; 105-Kisner - pinned; 112-Shaffer pinned; 119-Lear - pinned; 126-Riedlinger - pinned; 132-Olsen - dec; 138-January - pinned; 145-Jones - by forfeit; 155-Morgan - lost; 167-Eastman - lost; 185-Johnston - lost; HWT-Coari - pinned. Final Team Score Antioch 51-McHenry 18.

Sequoits Win a Laughner & Nip McHenry

Antioch's Sequoits again came through a weekend's activities with two wins, bringing their seasons mark to 8 and 2.

Coach Roger Andrews charges rated an easy win of Friday night, beating Lake Zurich 72-59 and nipping Mc Henry in a close one 54-51 on Saturday.

In the first game, Lake Zurich kept it close for awhile, but were never really in it after the first quarter.

Lake Zurich opened the game on defense with a half court press, but the Sequoits moved the ball easily regardless.

In what was probably his finest game, Jeff Williams hit on 9 of 12 from the field and 7 of 9 from the charity stripe to gain his total of 25 points. He was also strong under the boards with 13 rebounds, eight under his own bucket.

Pat Michalak and Tim Mieure were just below Williams in scoring with 16 and 17 respectively.

Special mention must go to the passing of Mieure and Fred Popp, who has 12 assists between them. Good head fake passes allowed Williams and Michalak easy buckets under the hoop.

The Sequoits were ahead by 24 late in the fourth quarter when Andrews gave his coaching rival from Lake Zurich a chance to save some face.

While the second team was in the Bears regulars were able to create some turnovers and make the final line score tell a different story than what was seen by those at the game.

In Saturday night action the Sequoits came from behind late in the fourth quarter to stop a strong Mc Henry team.

The three point margin of victory was in fact, the largest lead that the Sequoits had all night.

Big gun for the Sequoits was Tim Mieure. The scrappy guard hit on 12 of 15 attempts from the floor, for an incredibly 80% figure. Adding a free throw his 25 points were easily tops for the night.

Pat Michalak, who got into foul trouble with 4 in the first half, sat on the bench during the third quarter as Ken Tell did a creditable job as his sub.

With Michalak out, Jeff Williams bore the brunt of the board action and managed 15, to go along with 11 points.

Dave Koppa, playing for the slumping Mark Andrews, played a consistent game, made his only shot from the field and added three assists.

Fred Popp had another of his unspectacular, but critical games. While he doesn't shoot a lot and doesn't draw standing ovations, his ball handling and savvy make him one of the big cogs in the Sequoit machine.

After the thrilling come from behind victory, Coach Rog Andrews had this to say of his players, "They're a high class ball club, they wouldn't let down after a big conference win the night before, even after they fell behind by 7 on a couple of occasions."

Antioch now takes it's 8-2 record and season hopes to the Rockford Christmas Classic. They will play Fulton High School at 2:00 p.m. and if they show what they can do will meet the winner of the Auburn - Woodstock Marian game the following day at 3:30 p.m.

The annual Christmas tourney is being hosted by Rockford Boylan High School, which is located at the north edge of Rockford on Campus Hills Blvd, just north and west of Rt. 2.

Parking will be no problem for Antioch residents wanting to watch their Sequoits play in this prestigious tourney.

Tickets will be $.75 for students and $1.25 for adults.

Two heads, four arms, and eight legs prove that everyone is putting their "all" into this varsities season. (staff photo)

Boys Intramural Recreation Program Proposed

The Antioch High School Board was termed "receptive" and "enthusiastic" by Mr. Ward Lear, Athletic director of the high school, in regard to his proposed intramural and recreational programs.

The programs are designed to make greater use of the new gym facilities and to provide supervised activities for high school boys not in the formal athletic program.

However, according to Lear, while the Board was receptive to his proposals, they put off any final decision until the significance of the program in the school's list of priorities could be ascertained.

Lear submitted to the board cost estimates for each of the three plans he had formed. Each plan was slightly different and featured either organized or supervised recreation.

Plan I called for a 20 week session, with two meetings a week, from either 6:30 or 7:00 to 9:00. The activities used for this first plan would be of a nature that would require organization and would require officials or referees drawn from the students, trained and paid a salary for their time.

Plan II would feature large team sports (basketball, volleyball etc) that the students could play on a "pick up" basis and would need only the supervision of two adults. This plan also would run 20 weeks, two nights a week, at approximately the same times.

Plan III, which was suggested for the remainder of the 1971-72 school year, would be in essence, the second proposal, on an abbreviated time schedule. Lear felt that this plan would give those involved the opportunity to see if participation would be great enough to warrant a more formal intramural program for the 1972-73 school year.

Jeff Williams, at left, watches ball start off the backboard into the net as he came down following a tip in.

St. Peters has Triple Victory. The St. Peters Grade School basketball teams had a triple victory this past Sunday over St. Gilberts of Grayslake.

The 6th Graders came out with a score of 42-15. 7th Grade 29-22. 8th Grade won 42-36.

Fruit cake Enjoyed by Old Romans

One of the most-favored delicacies of the holiday season is the Fruit-cake.

Many a loving homemaker will start months in advance and make the cake from an old family recipe, wrap it in a rum-or brandy-soaked cloth and store it until the Great Days come.

Most of us envision a dark red-brown cake so filled with fruit and nuts that it can hardly be cut . . . so aromatic with spirits that we could stand over it all day and 'drink in' its redolence.

However, the term "good fruitcake" has as many variations as the singers of its praises.

Such discrepancies arise, says an expert in bakers' matters, "because no one appears to have decided exactly what constitutes fruitcake." Not even a super-fussy Department of Agriculture of a certain state has attempted to define the delicacy.

It's not difficult to see why. Over the years, fruit-cake has had as many recipes as eaters. To the ancient Romans, according to a well-known cookbook, it was Satura, a mixture of a well known barley mash, dried raisins, pine kernels and pomegranate seeds "laced with condiments and honeyed wine."

To Elizabeth of England it was spice cake, containing, according to a recipe of the time, "good ale barme . . . eight eggs with two yolks . . . aniseeds bruised . . . (and) a little rose water."

Most modern recipes appear to descend from the old Pennsylvania Dutch cake and British plum pudding cake. The latter was notable for its considerable brandy content, an ingredient missing from many commercial products.

Danish Postal Clerk Originated Xmas Seal; U.S. Newspaper Launched Crusade

Far more than just a colorful little sticker to brighten cards and gifts, the Christmas Seal epitomizes a mighty crusade for health and happiness.

The Seal originated in Denmark in 1904. A kindly postal clerk, Einar Holboell, brooded over the suffering of sick children and tried to think of a way to help them.

As he sorted the heavy Christmas mail he was struck by the idea of a stamp which people would buy, use at Christmas, and which would benefit sick and needy youngsters. The postmaster liked the idea, so did the King of Denmark, and so did the warmhearted Danish people. Soon enough money came in to build a children's tuberculosis hospital.

Some of these seals reached America. A Danish-American writer, Jacob Riis, received one on a letter. Knowing the tragedy of the disease firsthand (6 of his brothers had died) he wrote an article, pleading for someone to take up the cause in the United States.

A doctor serving at a shack set up as a TB hospital in Delaware, desperately trying to save the little hospice, asked help from his cousin, Emily Bissell, who raised funds for good causes.

$300 was urgently needed, at once.

Miss Bissell, having heard of Denmark's success with the stamps, resolved to bring it to life in this country.

After many setbacks, she doubled her efforts, even drew the design for the first Seal herself. Two friends lent money. A printer supplied 50,000 of the bright red stamps on credit. Volunteers put the stamps in small envelopes carrying a courageous, catchy message.

The stamps went on sale in the Wilmington post-office. At the end of a few days only a few dollars had been realized . . . many dollars away from three hundred!

Miss Bissell traveled to Philadelphia to seek assistance from the city's leading newspaper. But all she talked to discouraged her. What tie-up could there be between Christmas greetings and the dread disease of tuberculosis?

On an impulse she stopped in to see a writer whose work she admired. His name was Leigh Mitchell Hodges. When he saw the sheet of bright red seals his vision and sense of humanity were ignited; he saw the seals as a flaming banner to lead a fight against suffering and death.

His editor "caught fire" too. He instructed Hodges to give the story full play. He even asked Miss Bissell to send the newspaper 50,000 of the Seals.

Incredulous, but thrilled, Miss Bissell had more seals printed, to meet his enthusiasm.

CHRISTMAS DECORATING ONCE SUSPECT

Decorating the tree and the home was not always an innocent pastime. In the very early days of the Christian Church the Popes took a cautious stand on the matter of decorations and festivities. They felt that some of the emerging customs were too pagan in origin.

The church gradually accepted and blessed the practice of decorating both the house of God and the Christian home with plants and flowers on the feast of the Nativity.

Pope Gregory I (604 A.D.) in a letter to St. Augustine of Canterbury advised him to permit, and even to encourage, harmless popular customs which seemed non-pagan and natural, and could be given Christmas interpretation.

Family Project: Ornament-Making in Old Countries

That twinkling bauble in glowing colors hanging from your tree was no doubt mass-produced by American wonder-makers, but up till fairly recently these little beauties were part of an industry which involved whole families.

Just as in medieval Europe families spent lifetimes weaving tapestries to hang on the manorial walls, so did Eastern European and Japanese families devote family skills to creating joy for your Christmas in the form of beautiful ornaments.

Many of our readers will recollect how in their childhood they were enthralled with the many colors, intricate shapes and sizes of these ornaments. Frequently they were heavy, and bowed the tree limbs, but they lasted from one Christmas to another, and from one generation to another.

The fragile bubbles of glass, which are so much a part of the decorations of the Christmas tree, were once largely a cottage industry in Europe and Japan.

In the tiny villages that cling to steep mountainsides in eastern Europe whole families shared in the manufacturing process.

Special shapes and designs are the exclusive property of certain families, the patterns frequently dating back for centuries unchanged.

Using a Bunsen burner, the father carefully blew the thin glass tubing to the desired shape, with the aid of an iron mold. His son removed the hot ornament to a cooling table. Next the mother silvered the inside, and the daughters applied painted designs.

Mechanical methods, developed in recent years by American glass manufacturers, have brought this picturesque little industry to an eclipse, except for rare instances where the handcraftsman art is still cherished.

Always glad to wish you Happy Holidays & Motoring!

Hanukkah, Christmas customs foster mutual respect

Maybe some Jewish parents enjoy the image of Santa as much as their children do. Said one mother, "The children believe in Santa to not hurt my feelings. I sometimes try to save the big presents for Christmas day. They put some socks by the fireplace, but they stay empty. Santa Claus belongs to all sects, the children don't believe he's a religious figure."

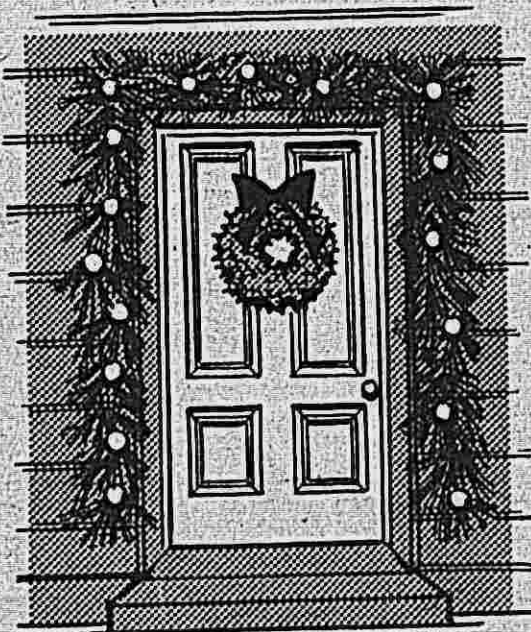

They go to synagogue and at Hanukkah the house is decorated with stars of David. The family eats potato pancakes, and the children get a present every night. But, every year, the children ask for Christmas lights outside the house.

Behind all the Christian and Jewish symbols — the tree, the star of Bethlehem, the menorah, the star of David — is the effort by the parents to be sure their children understand the basic differences.

"We visited a friend who had a huge Christmas tree, and that widened their horizons," says a Jewish mother.

With all of the hoopla, the merrymaking, the feverish shopping mania, the neighbors' vying with each other to decorate the house, etc., etc., one wonders at how our non-Christian brothers react to the secular celebration of "Christmas."

What do Jewish children do when their neighbors' brightly colored Christmas lights come on, the trees are laden with baubles and the stockings are hung by the television set . . . ? How do their parents answer questions about Santa Claus?

Said one mother, whose Jewish family is one of about 30 in her neighborhood, "There's such an abundance of Christmas in school. I find that 50% of the class curriculum between Thanksgiving and Christmas is devoted to the holiday. The Jewish children begin to feel very lonesome and stand-outish around Christmas. So we counter with our Hanukkah celebration."

'EVER-BLOOMING' STORY OF THE XMAS ROSE

When Christ was born in Bethlehem kings from far-away lands came bearing gifts of great rarity and value. Everyone within sight and sound of the Event came and brought gifts of one kind or another . . . the shepherds brought little new-born lambs as their humble offering.

Off to a corner, unnoticed, huddled a little shepherdess, named Madelon, who wept because she had no gift for the Baby.

As her tears fell to the stable ground a miracle came to pass: small, lovely blooms sprang up among the tears; Madelon quickly gathered them and ran to show the Child the beautiful flowers.

Little Jesus touched the blooms with his tiny fingers and behold! the petals flushed rosy pink! This was the Christmas rose.

'Tis said that to this day, every year, when Christmas comes (and not until that day) the Christmas Rose blooms abundantly, in celebration of the Holy Birthday.

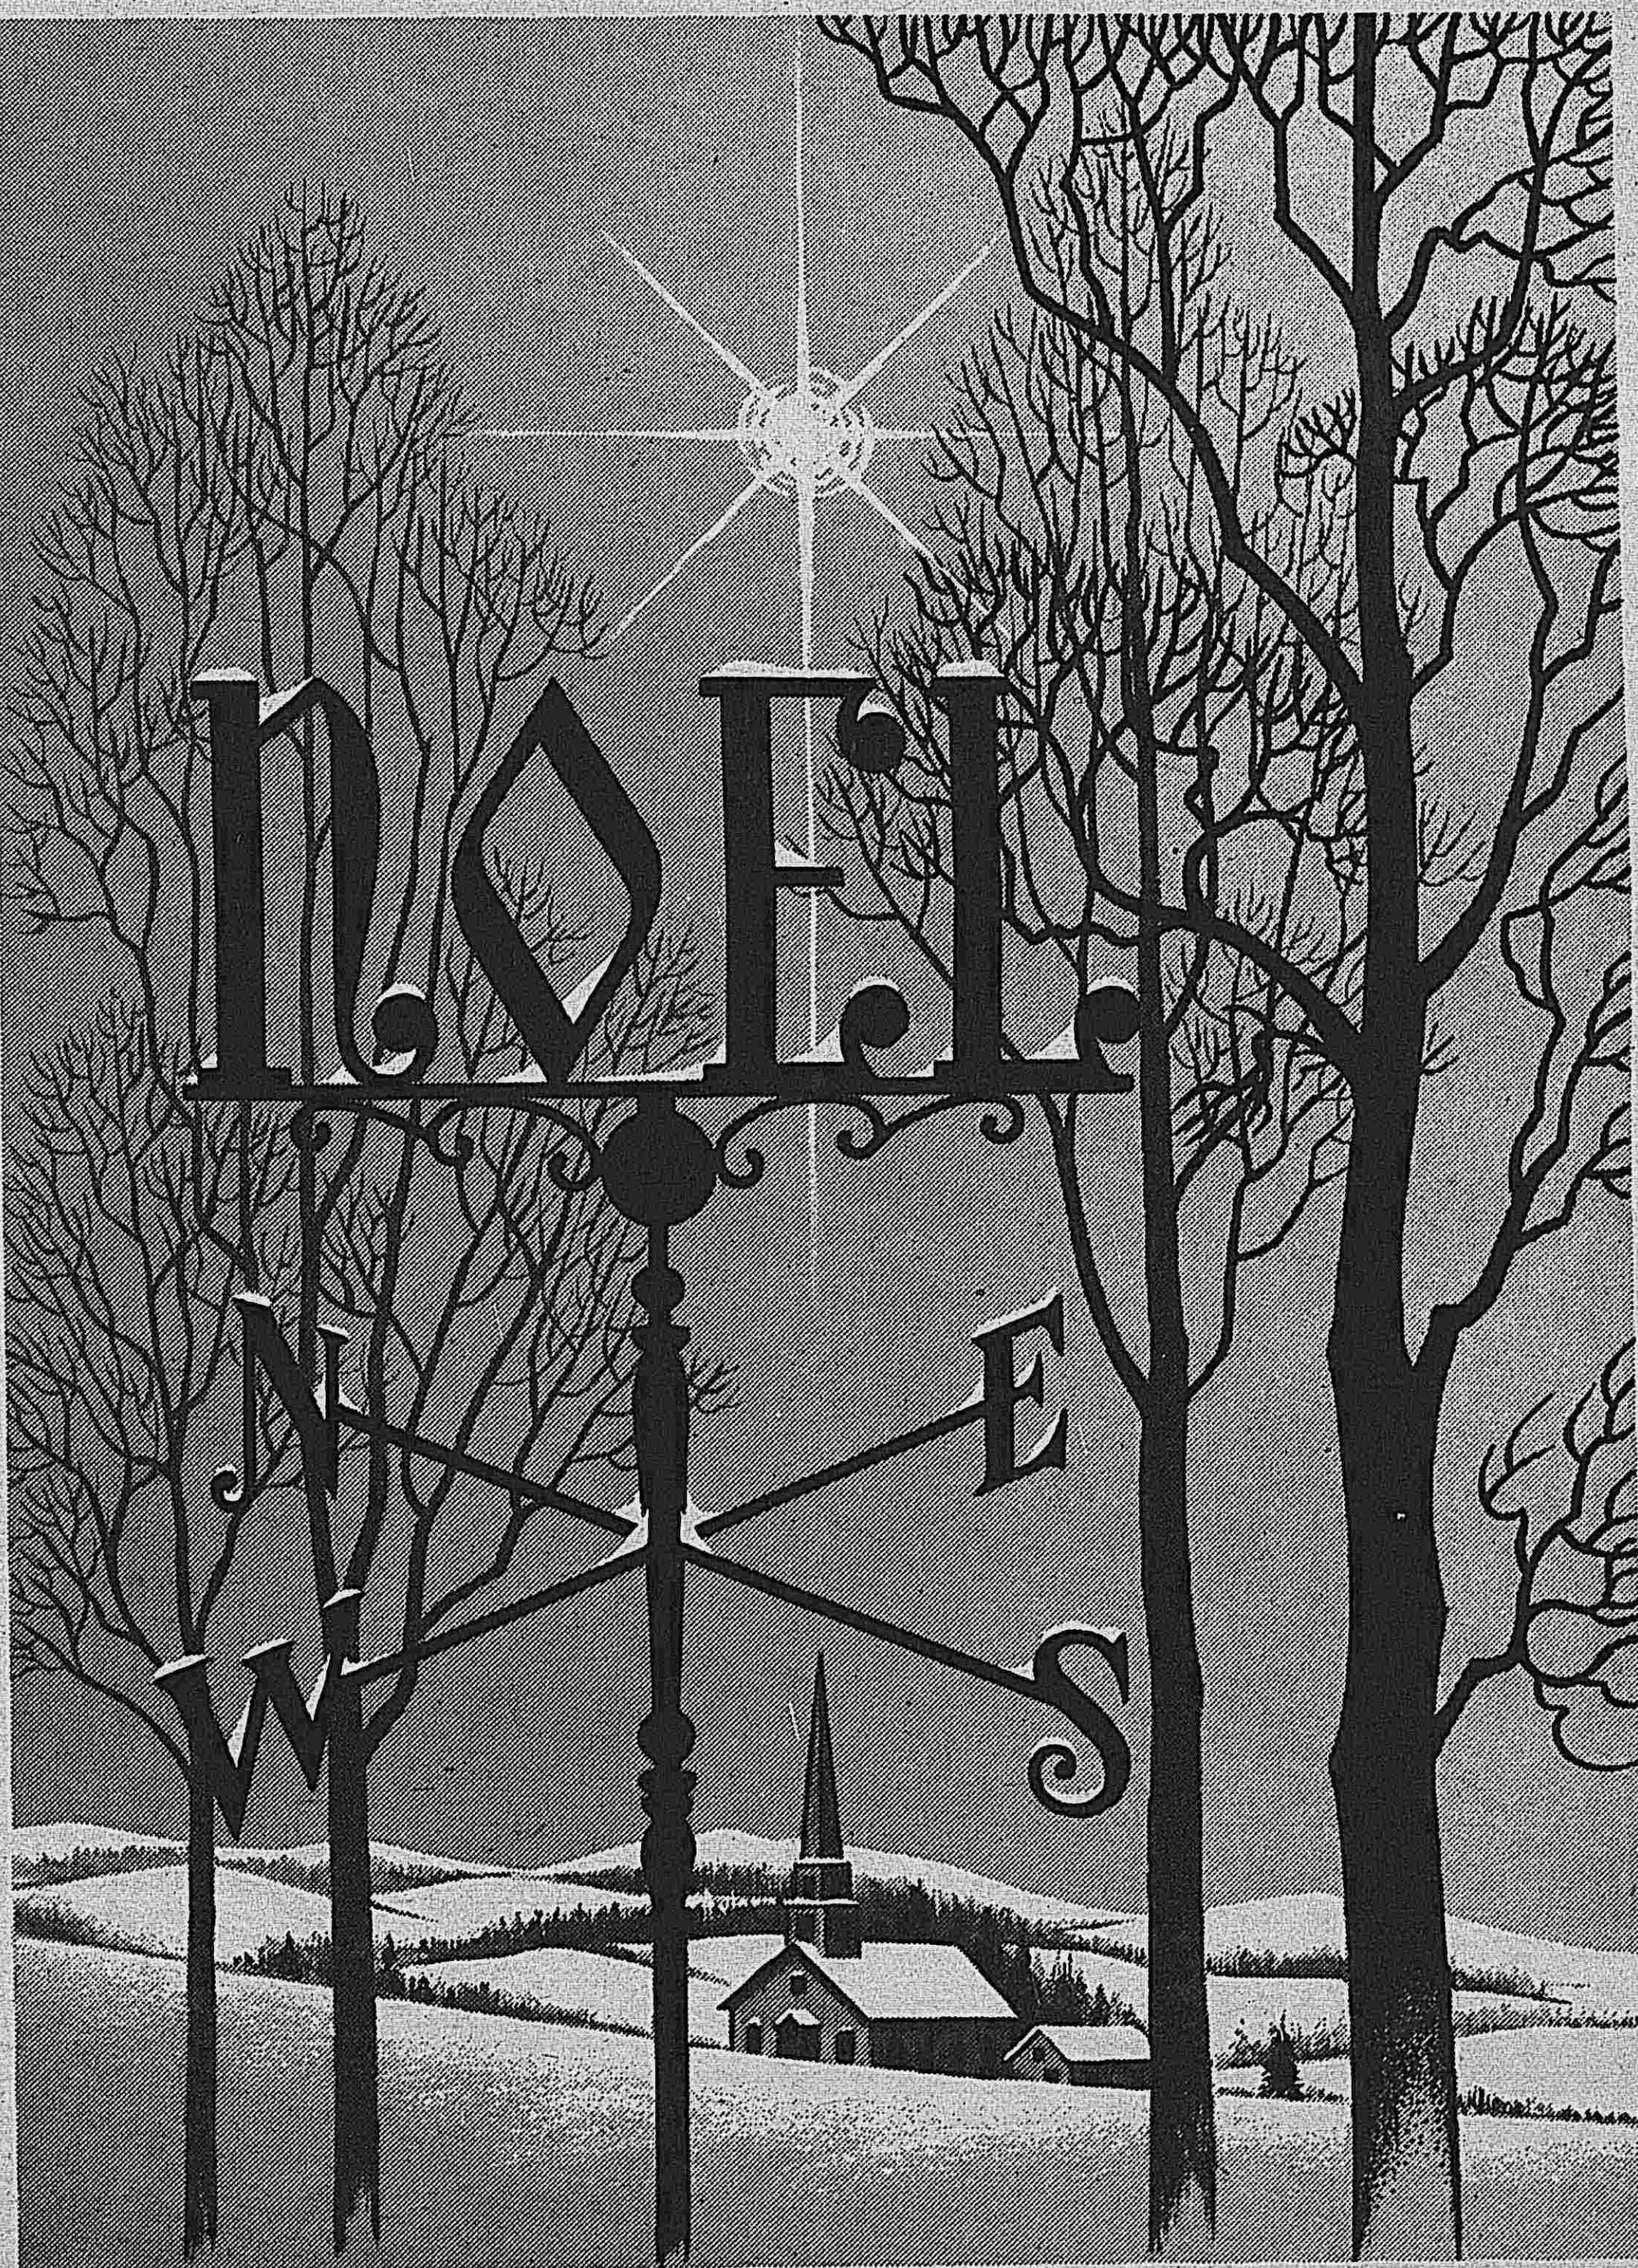

The Christmas Rose in itself is a great gift for the World, as it was on that hallowed day, many, many years ago . . . as was the Holy Child, to all mankind, for all time.

The Puritan Government banned the celebration of Christmas in England in 1643.

Tradition Has It That Yule Tree Began in Egypt

The Christmas tree, now almost a universal symbol, probably came to America from Germany, although tradition has it that Christmas trees originated in Egypt. The palm tree is supposed to put forth a branch every month, and a spray of this tree, with 12 shoots on it, was used in Egypt.

German writers mention the tree as early as 1605. The German prince Albert, consort of Queen Victoria, introduced the Christmas tree in England when he had a tree for his daughter.

YES, VIRGINIA, THERE ARE GLASS-ORNAMENT MAKERS. THEY WORK ON XMAS, MONTHS AHEAD

While you're busy selecting the perfect ornaments for your family tree, the manufacturers of them in all likelihood, are vacationing on some southern sands, or otherwise far away from the bustle . . . unless they, too, are admiring the ornaments selected for their trees!

Back in July many companies produced and moved ornaments all over the country in preparation for the Big Holiday.

While the ornament business is not big in the United States when compared with other industries special care is taken in the delivery of decorations that will deck the spruces, firs, pines and boughs of holly this Christmas season.

Mirabile dictu, only 12 to 15 per cent of such decorations are made of plastic.

Because of the special care in the shipment of glass balls, less than 4,000 out of 200 million glass balls produced last year were broken. An excellent performance!

Glass ornaments, which are produced by only three companies in this country, are usually only five one-thousandths of an inch thick and are quite fragile.

Most ornamental balls for the Christmas tree come in the popular size of 2 1/4 to 2 5/8 inches. One firm makes balls ranging from one" to 3 1/4."

Currently a major portion of holiday ornaments comes from Japan, with more and more being imported from Hong Kong and Taiwan in recent years. Italy, Germany and some of the countries behind the Iron Curtain also supply these products to the United States. In fact 8 to 10 per cent of all glass ornaments comes from outside of this country.

Over 80 different designs are offered by one leading U.S. maker, which fashions about 40 million ornaments a year from American-produced glass.

Most glass decorations today are manufactured by machine but a limited number are still made by hand.

Gifts from the Magi Held Mystic Symbolism

Gold of course has always been held in high favor as a gift for princes. The other two gifts, frankincense and myrrh are not as well known to modern man.

Long months were spent in harvesting these precious resins, which had to be brought to Palestine by caravan over long and hazardous journeys.

Thus it is little wonder that such rare and costly offerings were chosen as gifts befitting a king, for frankincense and myrrh carried the blessings of good health and religious favor.

Frankincense had for centuries been used by both the Egyptians and the Jews in religious rituals, and curative powers were attributed to it for the treatment of an astonishing variety of ailments.

Myrrh held a similar role of importance and was highly esteemed as an ointment and perfume, a ceremonial incense and an ingredient of embalming oils.

So highly treasured were these fragrant resins that pots and vases of ivory and alabaster were fashioned to preserve them.

Historians tell us that frankincense was burned to purify the air, and that to breathe the fragrance would comfort and refresh the spirit — much as smelling salts are used today.

A potion of frankincense was believed to be an antidote for hemlock poisoning, as well as a cure for leprosy.

AMERICA'S SETTLERS CELEBRATED IN OWN WAY

During the early 17th century any formal observance of Christmas was ruled out by the rigid code of Puritanism. Yule festivity was forbidden as emanating from the Devil. And the Devil was very much a personage in those days. This rule persisted until 1681 when it was repealed. Probably the influence of the Dutch and German settlers had prevailed, and their customs of Christmas feasting and gaiety softened the hearts of the strict Puritans.

The plenty of the new land provided abundant foodstuffs for the holiday table. And the woods' greens, boughs and assorted cones were used for decorative trim.

In northeastern Wyoming it was rumored that one of a pioneer's Christmas trees had a calming influence on a wounded Sioux Indian who burst into a widow's cabin seeking help and food. She was decorating a small tree for her two children. Its beauty aroused the Indian's curiosity and through sign language, the woman was able to explain in part some of the tree's significance. She fed and cared for the Indian and was able to take him back to his tribe. It is part of the legend that he, having learned the spirit of Christmas, rewarded her with many gifts.

Ah! The Mistletoe

In Europe it is quite common for men to kiss each other on the cheek as a sign of salute, or as part of a special ceremony.

Back in the days of the Roman legionnaires it was the custom, also. Sometimes it was linked with the plant mistletoe, which had always been regarded with great respect by the ancients.

A soldier in the Roman legion gave mistletoe some reverence. If he met an enemy under a tree upon which mistletoe was growing, both men would drop their weapons, kiss each other and call a truce. Mistletoe was honored as a symbol of hope and peace.

By the time this kissing custom worked its way down through the ages, habits changed. For in early English history it was noted that young lovers must pick a berry each time a kiss was stolen from a maid. When the berries were gone, so were the kisses.

The ancient druids regarded the mistletoe as a plant of mystery and gave it sacred respect. It was believed to have the powers of fertility, but also of national disaster if it was ever to touch the earth. So the mistletoe was always hung high. Many tied boughs of it above the doors of their barns and houses to ward off evil spirits.

At our modern houses at Christmastime we find this custom still with us, more from habit than from any apprehension, probably.

Robin Has Own Christmas Tale

The robin, now considered a harbinger of spring, a century ago was a favorite Christmas motif on cards, and for decorative effect.

Legend connected the robin with Christ, and thus with Christmas.

The legend states that the bird, in trying to ease Christ's suffering on His way to the crucifixion, pulled a thorn from the crown. In so doing, a drop of blood fell on the robin's chest and remained there forever.

Comic robins, perky robins and robins in all types of poses were pictured by the thousands of Christmas cards in the late 19th century.

Taos Indians have observed Yuletide for centuries

One of the most colorful celebrations of Christmas in America has been the rites conducted by the Taos Indians in New Mexico.

Commemorative Indian dances originated long before Spanish priests brought the Roman Catholic religion to the isolated pueblos of New Mexico in the 1600s. But with their conversion to Catholicism, the Indians blended the new and old, and the outgrowth was the Christmas dance.

The practice of Christmas dances originated when Spanish explorers and priests asked the Indians to perform whatever dances they thought would be appropriate for the religious holiday.

Customarily, either the Deer dance or the Matachines dance is performed on Christmas day.

According to the Indians, the Deer dance was chosen hundreds of years ago because the Indians thought the deer was one of the animals that might have been present when Christ was born.

The Matachines is a dance honoring the mother of Christ. According to an Indian spokesman, the dance was developed by the Indians from their interpretation of Spanish Catholic teachings about the Virgin Mother.

Religious events are plentiful in this predominantly Catholic state, although many of the services are no different (save for the setting, the adobe buildings and the cultural heritage of the people) from services held elsewhere.

Visitors now have to look long and hard to find any shepherds' watch-fires twinkling on the hills to light the path of Mary and Joseph. Once, such fires were common.

Also on Christmas Eve, the Indians of Taos customarily stage a procession lined by bonfires and by lighted pine faggots attached to long poles. Downtown Santa Fe is also usually ablaze with candle and artificial light during Christmas week.

Oldest Christian Church Looks Like a Fortress

The oldest church in Christianity is reputed to be the Church of the Nativity, built upon the spot where the stable stood. It was erected by Emperor Constantine the Great, in 330 A.D.

The church looks like a fortress. Its original stately portal has been walled up and replaced by a low and narrow entrance. There was a reason for this. In the first place, it compels the many pilgrims to bow before they enter. In the second place it was designed to keep the infidels from riding in on horseback or camel.

The interior of the church is dignified and simple, set off by beautiful Corinthian columns of native red sandstone. The roof is of massive oak. Silver lamps burning olive oil are suspended on gold and silver chains from the beams.

A silver star, fastened to a simple altar with silver nails, marks the exact spot where the Infant Jesus was born.

Three steps lead down to a small cave-like recess, the Chapel of the Manger. Beautiful tapestries and rugs are draped across the walls. Fifteen silver lamps are kept burning eternally in honor of Him, Who Christians believe, even today, is the light of the world.

Kissing Ball an Old Custom

Among the more popular aspects of a secular celebration is the Kissing Ball.

Many years ago every home featured at least one of these beautiful decorations, hung from an archway or chandelier.

The Kissing Ball was sometimes a pomander, sometimes a blown egg, sometimes a ball of cotton. Plastic foam is the favorite material today.

The ball is brightly painted or gilded, wrapped with ribbon and braid, and set with mock jewels, sparkling beads and sequins.

A ribbon suspends two or three in place and a sprig of mistletoe is secured at the top.

Young ladies who pass beneath may expect a kiss from some daring swain who waits nearby.

how to genuinely celebrate Christmas

This Christmas, mend a quarrel... Seek out a forgotten friend... Dismiss suspicion, and replace it with trust... write a letter... Share some treasure... Give a soft answer... Encourage youth... Manifest your loyalty in word and deed... Keep a promise... Find the time... Forego a grudge... Forgive an enemy... Listen... Apologize if you were wrong... Try to understand... Reject envy as unworthy... Examine your demands on others... Think first of someone else... Appreciate others... Be kind; be gentle... Laugh a little... Laugh a little more... Deserve confidence... Take up arms against malice... Decry complacency... Express your gratitude... Go to church... Welcome a stranger... Gladden the heart of a child... Take pleasure in the beauty and wonder of the earth... Speak your love... Speak it again... Speak it still once again...!

Christmas is celebration, and there is no celebration that compares with the realization of its true meaning... with the sudden stirring of the heart that has extended itself toward the core of life. Then, only then, is it possible to grasp the significance of that first Christmas... to savor in the inward ear the sweet music of the angel choir; to envision the star-struck sky, and glimpse, behind the eyelids, the ray of light that fell athwart a darkened path and changed the world.

One 'Ordinary' Man: Yet He Changed World

Here is a man who was born in an obscure village, the child of a peasant woman. He grew up in another obscure village. He worked in a carpenter shop until He was 30, and then for three years He was an itinerant preacher. He never wrote a book. He never held an office.

He never owned a home. He never set foot inside a big city. He never travelled 200 miles from the place where He was born. He had no credentials but Himself.

He had nothing to do with this world except the naked power of His divine manhood. While still a young man, the tide of popular opinion turned against Him. His friends ran away. One of them denied Him. He was turned over to His enemies. He went through the mockery of a trial. He was nailed upon a cross between two thieves.

His executioners gambled for the only piece of property He had on earth while He was dying — and that was His coat. When He was dead He was taken down and laid in a borrowed grave through the pity of a friend.

Nineteen wide centuries have come and gone and today He is the centerpiece of the human race and the leader of progress. I am far within the mark when I say that all the armies that ever marched, and all the navies that ever were built, and all the parliaments that ever sat, and all the kings that ever reigned, put together have not affected the life of man upon this earth as powerfully as that One Solitary Life.

Christmas Creche Has Age-Old Tradition

We do not know when the first creche was set up as a tableau to illustrate the nativity, but church records indicate that St. Francis of Assisi received special permission from the Pope to reconstruct the scene in the Bethlehem stable.

Today the crib, surrounded by figurines of the Holy Family, the Three Wise Men, shepherds, angels and farm animals, is to southern Europe and Catholic countries what the brightly decorated Christmas tree is to America.

In the Southern Hemisphere Christmas is celebrated in mid-summer heat. They will have the traditional turkey dinner. Families often go to the seashore or the hills for a picnic.

The Word "Yule" Has Pagan Origins

The ancient northern Europeans, acutely conscious of the peregrinations of the Sun, formed definite theories about it.

They thought the sun was a wheel revolving around the earth, and they observed that on one particular day in midwinter its appearance and disappearance marked the shortest day of the year.

This cycle was known to them as the Hweol, and it was a time of celebrating.

As the pagan Yule celebrations were replaced by the feast of Christmas, the festival season extended from Christmas Eve to the Feast of the Epiphany. This meant that the Yule log had plenty of time, big as it used to be, to flame and flicker before the last of it had smoldered to ashes.

In the agricultural economy of the pre-Civil War South here in our own country, the Yule log was the means of procuring a true holiday for the field hands.

There was on many plantations an accepted unwritten rule that the slaves would not have to work outdoors so long as the Yule log was alight. The workers would take advantage of this custom, and select the biggest and toughest gum tree trunk they could find. They would sink it under water for weeks beforehand, to make it as slow-burning as possible. Sometimes one of these nearly fireproof logs would simmer away for several weeks.

'Adeste Fidelis' Different and Beautiful Translated Into 120 Languages!

"Adeste Fidelis" (O Come, All Ye Faithful) is one of the best-known Christmas carols in the world. It has been translated into more than 120 languages and dialects.

Some scholars believe it may have been known to Francis of Assisi and that it might have been sung while the people gathered around the first creches.

Still others say that the great carol was written by St. Bonaventure, a contemporary of St. Francis, in the 13th century.

Be that as it may, it is affirmed that the carol changed through the years, and was popular in Germany and France as early as the 17th century.

The earliest recorded words and melody of "Adeste Fidelis" are found in "Cantus Diversi", a collection of hymns (1750) by John Francis Wade.

The carols, hymns and songs that so enrich our Christmas season today are the products of many countries and many centuries.

This beautiful music came to America with the early settlers.

The Germans brought Luther's hymn for children, "Away In A Manger." "God Rest Ye Merry, Gentlemen" came from England. The French gave us "Cantique de Noel" or "O, Holy Night."

American composers began early to fill the roster of Christmas favorites.

In 1730, Charles Wesley, younger brother of John Wesley, founder of the Methodist denomination, wrote "Hark, the Herald Angels Sing."

"It Came Upon A Midnight Clear" was composed in 1849 by Edmund H. Sears.

You can quickly make your own Cathedral "stained glass" window in your home!

Christmas belongs to other sects too, Asians say

According to the manager of a large department store in Hong Kong, Christmas no longer belongs to Christians only. "The Chinese population," says he, "has made it a fete of their own."

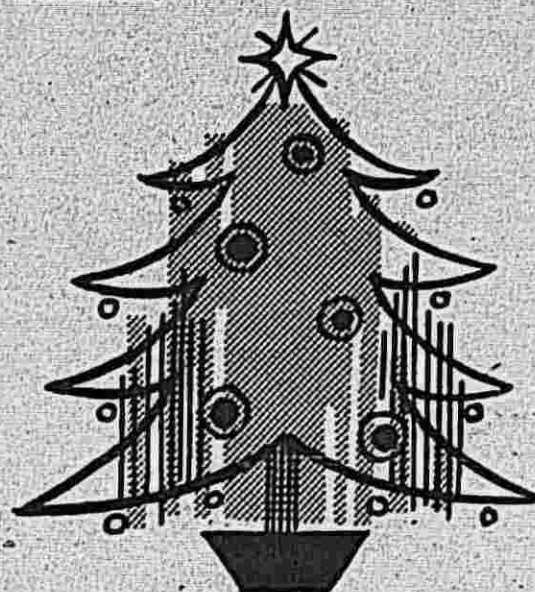

Buddhists, Confucians, Moslems, Shintoists, Taoists and all other men of good will express in some way the spirit of the season.

In South Korea Christmas Eve is a night for revelry. The midnight to 4 a.m. curfew, imposed because of any North Korean threat, is lifted. Koreans in the thousands flock to tea houses, night clubs and hotels.

In Burma, where the people are predominantly Buddhist, one may be able to turn on the radio on Christmas Day and hear a live broadcast of Handel's "Messiah" presented by an interdenominational, multiracial choir.

"Peace on earth" is what all the "little" people think about and families pray for. In military camps there is mail from home, the best food the army can muster and the odd improvised Christmas tree perched on top of a bunker.

In Taiwan, the island republic's 600,000 Christians observe a more subdued Christmas than their western brothers, saving festivities for the Chinese Lunar New Year.

December is bonus time in Japan. The year-end bonus is enjoyed by all employees of Japanese firms and the government, including the Prime Minister.

Here's hoping Santa serves up the best of everything for you!

legend of the three trees & the Christ-Child

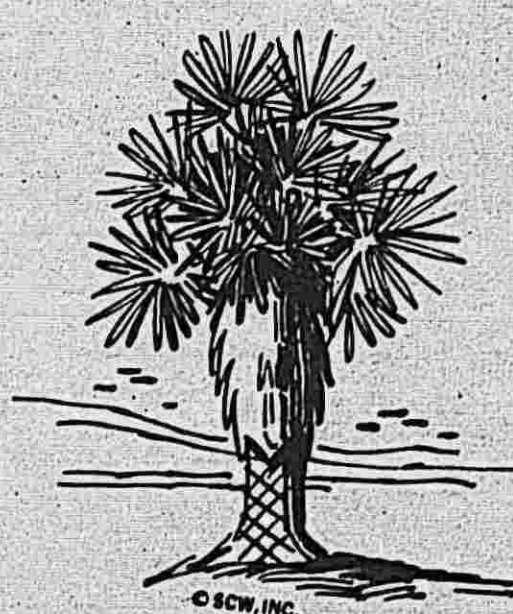

Trees have been friends of Man for as long as recorded history. But not always are they associated with the coming of the Christ Child, and the day which Christians (and other sects, too) celebrate.

Legends abound about the origin of the Christmas tree. One is based on the three trees near the manger — the olive, the date and the pine tree.

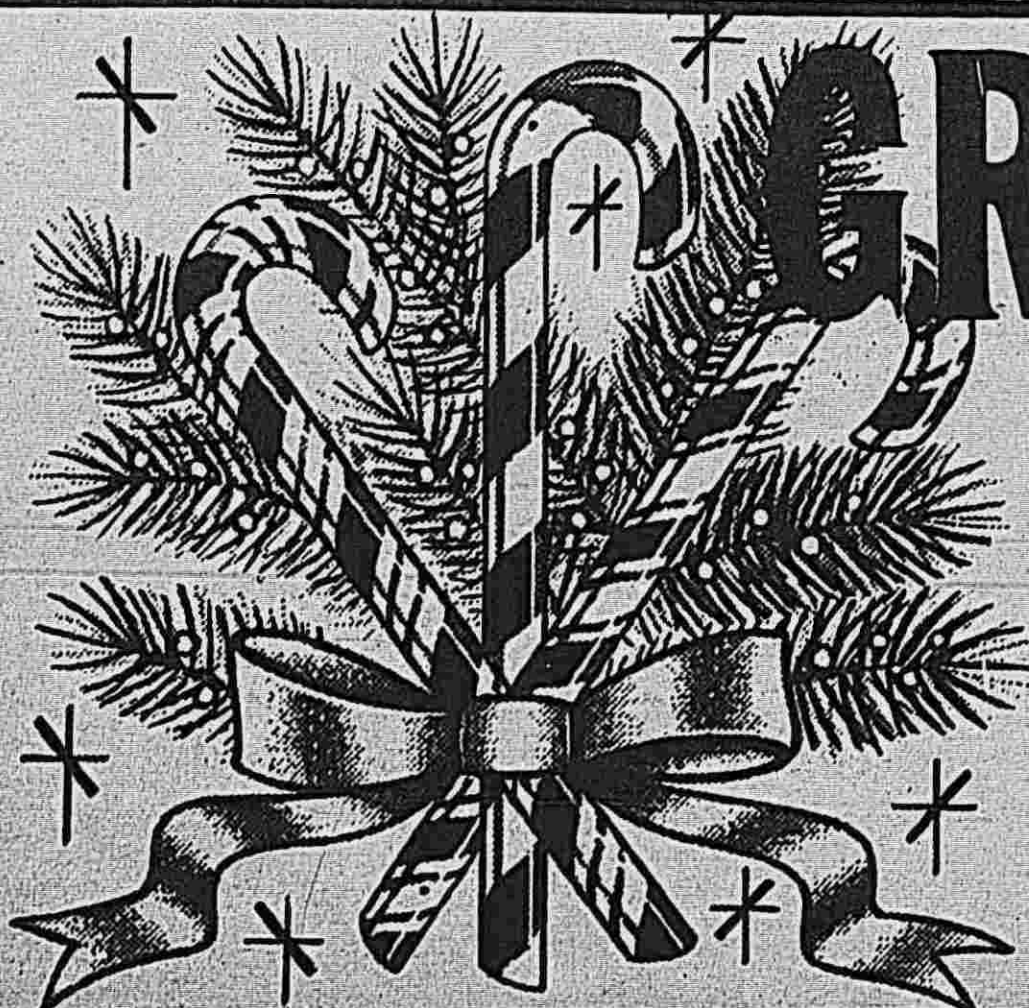

To honor the newborn king, the olive gave its fruit and the palm its dates as an offering, but the pine tree, forlorn, had nothing to give. Some stars seeing this from above, gently descended from the heavens and rested upon its boughs as an offering. This charming tale is said to be the origin of the decorated tree.

Another legend concerns St. Boniface in the 8th century. On Christmas Eve, while the famous Man of God was hewing down the sacred oak that had been the object of idolatrous worship, a tornado blasted it. Just behind it stood a young fir tree pointing a green spire heavenward.

St. Boniface turned to the pagans and said, "This little tree, a young child of the forest, shall be your holy tree. It is the wood of peace, for your homes are built of it. It is the sign of an endless life, for its leaves are always green. Let this be the tree of the Christ child."

MERRY CHRISTMAS

GREETINGS

These happy holidays come but once a year with a flurry of fun and good cheer. It is our sincere hope that this will continue throughout the year!

CHRISTMAS: MESSAGE OF HOPE FOR WORLD'S WOES

In a world torn with violence at almost every level, through formally or informally declared war, in rioting, anarchy, in cruel discrimination, it is difficult for thinking people to truly experience Christmas.

Yet, through the very meaning of Christ's coming, every man, of every persuasion . . . whether "Christian" or not, can take Christmas to his heart and profit by it.

For Christ personified brotherhood, abiding love, tolerance; if Christians have gotten away somewhat through the "outward and visible signs," the ceremonials and the trappings — perhaps this is the year to come home to Christ.

Whatever the rest of the world is doing, let each of us celebrate Christ's birth in our individual, personal ways.

Let us forget self, let us truly open our hearts, to genuinely offer friendship and brotherly love, even to those who seem least receptive.

Let us "do" for others, not just through organized charities, or group efforts. Discover the thrill of assisting some less fortunate person, someone who may have much of this world's goods, but be impoverished otherwise.

This is the Christmas to relinquish those petty grievances, and perhaps the important ones, as well.

This is the Christmas to really show those you love that you do love them, in important, little ways . . . and in large ways, too. It is so human to take care of the vital, "large" ways, and overlook the small, also vital ways! This is the year to do something about that.

A PRAYER FOR THE NEW YEAR

We pray . . . that strength and courage be given to all who work for a world of good will . . . that the scourges of poverty, disease and callousness will be driven from the earth . . . that the spirit of the Season may live among us, for always.

IRISH LEGEND, IVY AND THE WINE GOD

The term "Bacchanalian revelry" often applies to holiday celebrations. Ivy is intertwined in the history of Bacchus, for ivy was the Wine God's crown.

Legend tells how it was introduced into Ireland. When Bacchus was traveling through the western lands he visited Ireland, and fell in love with its lush green, charm and beauty. When the time came for him to leave the country, he decided to plant the ivy as a living souvenir of his affection for the Emerald Isle.

We wish the very best for you . . . peace, prosperity!

Brazil celebrates a summery Christmas

As in many warm spots in the U.S. where palm trees wave and surfers play, in those Latin-American countries south of the equator, Christmas celebrants simulate the traditional wintry scene. During December it's summer, and Santa most likely will have a temperature-control undersuit beneath all that red velvet and ermine.

In Colombia, government authorities have prohibited the chopping down of pine trees to help preserve the nation's forests. So, many Colombian families will be using aluminum and plastic Christmas trees, even as their North American neighbors do.

Christmas is more of a family affair and often quieter in Latin America than in the more developed, industrialized northern countries. Families eat a large, intimate dinner. Gifts are exchanged, but on a somewhat smaller scale. The more devout attend midnight mass.

Customs in Latin America vary.

Take the Christmas Eve dinner, for instance. In Argentina, where the Italian influence is strong, families are apt to dine on ravioli and chicken. In Mexico, shrimp and rice and other regional dishes are likely to be the favorites, although turkey is becoming popular. In Lima, Peru, however, turkey has caught on as a main dish (unless some Yanqui-go home sentiment prevails). It's eaten with plenty of rice and salad, and afterwards there is usually an assortment of candies.

In Argentina, the bigger gifts are given on Christmas. On the day of the wise men, tots find smaller goodies tucked in a shoe or under a pillow.

In Panama, North American influence from the Canal Zone seems to have its Christmas effect. Children in tropical weather look to Christ and to Santa for their gifts, found under the tree.

Venezuela has its own variation of Christmas Eve — it's celebrated the same way as New Year's Eve, with a large meal and afterward family fiestas, with dancing of national rhythms. New Year's resolutions are made on Christmas Eve as well as on New Year's Eve.

SANTA RIDES A WHITE MARE OVER ROOF TOPS... OTHER DUTCH XMAS-LORE

Donner, Blitzen and all the rest of that squad of flying reindeer which Dr. Clement Moore immortalized in his famous poem might get "in Dutch" with the children of the Netherlands who traditionally get a different image at Christmas. And the timing is different. Christmas comes twice a year for the children of Holland. They get their presents on the evening of Dec. 5 or the following morning. Three weeks later, with the rest of the world, they celebrate the festival, in a religious way.

St. Nicholas (the originator of all the Santa and Snowmen figures all over the world) arrives in Holland from Spain in the middle of November. From then until Dec. 6, the Saint's birthday, Dutch children may put their shoes by the fireside every evening, together with a carrot or a slice of bread for the white mare which the saint traditionally rides over the roof-tops in Holland.

In the morning, if the children have behaved themselves, they may find a little toy or some goodies in their shoes.

From the middle of November the misty Dutch air is filled with the sound of children's voices singing the traditional St. Nicholas song, completely secular. After Dec. 6 there is a switchover to Christmas carols.

Sing hey! Sing hey!
For Christmas Day;
Twin mistletoe and holly.
For friendship glows
In winter snows,
And so let's all be jolly!
